Delays at Rio Grande port, Brazil

We are currently experiencing some vessel delays and cancellations at Rio Grande port. This is due to bad weather, vessel maintenance, changes in the vessel rotations and operational delays at Santos and Buenos Aires ports (stops prior to Rio Grande). Problems have so far affected several shipping lines including Maersk, Hamburg Sud, and CSAV.

GKN Freight Services are monitoring the situation closely and will keep you updated on any further developments. In the meantime please feel free to contact us with any questions or concerns.
