Brazil Strike Action

Brazil's airport workers' union started an indefinite strike today affecting all airports in Brazil due to demands for wage increases and other benefits.

This strike will involve thousands of workers, provoking long queues and major delays at the country's largest airports. 30% of the work force will continue to work, but passenger and cargo operations will suffer delays.

GKN Freight Services will keep you informed of any further developments. In the meantime, please feel free to contact us with any questions or concerns.
