Freight disruption throughout Europe & the US

Please be advised that between now and January 2010, given the current bad weather conditions all over Europe, as well as driving bans during the Christmas period, road freight services could be subject to delays. In addition, due to port and vessel congestion, caused by the bad weather conditions, sea freight shipments could also be delayed. Also, airfreight to and from Spain, France and Germany are currently subject to delays.

Record breaking snowfall hit the US east coast over the weekend causing travel chaos, flight cancellations and delays and treacherous road conditions. This will also cause some delays to our service.

GKN Freight Services will be monitoring all consignments very closely and will keep you informed of any further developments. In the meantime if you have any concerns please do not hesitate to contact us.
