Germany – Heavy snowfall causes delays

Heavy snowfall across Germany has caused delays at Germany's International airports and on the roads. Flights have been delayed or cancelled today at Dusseldorf and Frankfurt International Airports due to the bad weather and subzero temperatures are expected to continue over the coming days.

Please be advised that these weather conditions may cause disruption to our service. However we are closely monitoring the situation and will do our utmost to minimise delays. We will keep you informed of any further developments. In the meantime if you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact us.
