

GKN Freight Services Information Bulletin

Houston airports to close to commercial flights

Airport authorities in Houston have announced that no flights will operate from either William P. Hobby or George Bush Intercontinental airports after 2 pm on Friday because of Hurricane Ike. This could impact on various cargo flights including trans-shipment freight destined to Mexico.

GKN Freight Services will keep you informed of any further developments. In the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions or concerns.

12th September 2008