Metal workers strike may impact on Vigo port

Metal workers in Vigo have called a strike for Wednesday 10th, Thursday 11th and Friday 12th June 2009.

On Wednesday and Thursday only workers from the Naval sector will strike, while it is expected that all sectors will join the strike on Friday. Metal workers have already been striking over the last two weeks on Thursdays and Fridays, with some minor disruptions to the Vigo port entrance and exit although for a very limited amount of time.

While we do not expect a significant impact on transport activities, the port entrance and exit could be impacted. We therefore suggest that wherever possible cargo is shipped in advance to avoid any delays.

GKN Freight Services will be closely monitoring the situation and updating affected customers accordingly. However, in the meantime please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions or concerns.
