Severe weather warning throughout Northern Europe

Due to heavy snowfall in the North and West of France, a driving ban has been issued for trailers throughout this region, initially up until 1800 hours today. We are therefore experiencing some delays to our service.

In Germany, driving bans have also been issued due to the heavy snow fall. Several roads are also blocked in Belgium and Luxembourg causing delays to our seafreight containers to port.

In Italy, heavy snow fall is causing delays. Although we currently have no news of road closures, all trucks on the roads are proceeding very slowly due to the weather conditions.

GKN Freight Services are liaising with affected customers and we will continue to monitor the situation. We will keep you informed of any further developments. In the meantime, if you have any queries please do not hesitate to contact us.
