

GKN Freight Services Information Bulletin

Tropical Storm Gustav

As of 8 am EDT (Eastern Daylight Time) Tropical Storm Gustav is over Jamaica with an estimated path through the gulf. This has the potential of becoming a hurricane. The estimated time of landfall is Wednesday 3rd September 2008 which will extend from Corpus Christi, Texas to Pensacola, Florida. If this storm continues this may cause delays with shipments to and from Celaya, Mexico.

GKN Freight Services are monitoring the situation and are working to minimise the disruption that this may cause to our service. We will keep you informed of any further developments. In the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions.
