

Information Bulletin

Update - Hurricane Earl

Hurricane Earl appears to be gradually weakening. It has been downgraded to a category two hurricane, although winds still reached 165km/h as the storm hit the Outer Bank areas of North Carolina. There are no disruptions to flights foreseen.

GKN Freight Services are continuing to monitor the situation and will keep all customers updated of any further developments. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any concerns.

3rd September 2010