

GKN Freight Services Information Bulletin

Update - Transport Strike in France

It has now been confirmed that various transport companies will be on strike in France on Monday 2nd June. Other industries affected by the fuel rates will join the social movements such as taxi drivers and farmers so this will cause further disruption on the roads.

None of GKN Freight Services transport companies in France have indicated that they will be on strike on Monday, but we forecast that there could be disruption to transport caused by the blockades.

Please be assured that GKN Freight Services will be monitoring the situation, taking appropriate action to minimise any potential disruption and keeping you informed.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions.
