Update - Transport Strike in Spain

The Spanish National Federation of Transport Associations, (Fenadismer) have stated today that the transport strike will start at midnight on June 8th due to a breakdown in negotiations over increasing fuel prices. If the strike proceeds, the Port of Valencia will also strike.

Negotiations will continue up to the deadline of 8th June 2008 therefore the position remains unclear. If the strike does go ahead there will be significant delays in Spain.

GKN Freight Services will keep you informed of any further developments. In the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions.
